THE PEOPLE NETWORK

THE MEDICAL DEVICE INDUSTRY DEPENDS UPON PRECISION

- Parts and equipment must perform to perfection. Distribution of these devices should also be on time and accurate.
- Fierce competition within the medical device sector has caused many companies to use delivery as their competitive advantage, such as next day.
- Hospitals have unique complex infrastructures that presents a challenge to most transport providers. Local knowledge is essential.
- Medical device manufacturers pay to keep high consignment stock to maintain product availability for sales and keep up with hospital demand.
- Medical device distribution is subject to diverse, strict regulatory requirements and governmental pressure on healthcare costs.
